[redacted] furnished the following information:

He was told that GEORGE RAFF, the movie star, was staying at the Eden Roc Hotel and hanging out at the Penthouse Lounge.

He heard the call girl prices that were in the $50. bracket rose to $100.

The latter part of December the gambling casino at Port-au-Prince, Haiti, was being operated by a Chicago, Ill. group, but no names were supplied.

He was informed that the security unit of the National Airlines found shortages in the galley liquor storage cabinets and suspected some stewardesses were taking the liquor and putting it in their flight cases. Allegedly, some of the stewardesses were suspended when they refused to open their flight cases to some of the security men.

He was told but does not know whether it is true or not that [redacted]

With respect to the new cabana area [redacted] [redacted] at the Fontainebleau, he learned there were plans to build a separate card room on the first floor of this new section, but instead the upholstery department who needed bigger quarters moved into this area. As a result there is no special card room, but the racket element uses the new cabanas built on the third floor, which is located facing the Sorrento Hotel, with their rear facing Collins Avenue. The cabanas are open on the rear; have glass jalousies on the front; walls on the sides and open at the top. The racket element uses cabanas 350 and 351 for their card playing, betting, etc. operation and often play up to around 9:00 PM in this area.

It should be noted that any clearcut documentation or characterization of the Fontainebleau Hotel and the various representatives therein is virtually impossible. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

It is generally acknowledged that the Fontainebleau Hotel is one of the most successful of its kind in the country and as such is a much sought prize. Further, FISCHETTI and his associates, shortly after the opening of the Fontainebleau, maintained the concessions therein and subsequently relinquished them. Until recently, Miami area notorious hoodlums were ordered to stay out of the hotel and not to utilize it as a headquarters. During the past several weeks, however, such notables as FISCHETTI [REDACTED] [REDACTED] have been observed there on a frequent basis. [REDACTED]

RE: JOE FISCHETTI, aka
AR
MM 92-99

He heard that JOE FISCHETTI is running errands and in general looking after FRANK SINATRA's general welfare while he is at the Fontainebleau Hotel. He saw FISCHETTI on three occasions at this hotel the past week and on each occasion he was alone.

On opening night of the FRANK SINATRA Show at the Fontainebleau, the lobby was so crowded one had to elbow one's self across the floor and people stood in line for long periods of time to get in the area where SINATRA was entertaining. He heard it said, many times, that SINATRA's show is sold out for his two week stay. He also heard that each night a table has been set aside and reserved at the Penthouse Lounge in the Harbour Towers Apartment for SINATRA and his party.

He received information that FRANK SINATRA arrived at the Fontainebleau Hotel about 7:45 PM on 2/22/66. [REDACTED] SINATRA at the Miami International Airport when he arrived and spent about an hour with SINATRA in the Penthouse assigned SINATRA, when he arrived at the Fontainebleau. b7C b7D

He is not aware of what SINATRA did up to midnight, [REDACTED] the Poodle Lounge in the Fontainebleau where SINATRA met JOE FISCHETTI and a female. They went from there (all three) to the GIGI Room in the same hotel where they had steaks and drinks. While there, they were joined by several other guests, unknown to him. The party in the GIGI Room broke up around 2:15 AM, and SINATRA [REDACTED] started up to the Penthouse but [REDACTED] and they hugged each other and spoke briefly to one another. After that SINATRA and [REDACTED] proceeded to their rooms. b7C b7D

At 2:30 AM, JOSEPH FISCHETTI went up to SINATRA's room with the beautiful brunette who was with FISCHETTI in the Poodle Lounge and who dined with them. FISCHETTI left the female in SINATRA's room and went back to the Poodle Lounge. She was not observed after that. shg-3

He received information that JOE FISCHETTI was in complete charge concerning any matter relative to FRANK SINATRA's stay at the Fontainebleau and personally looked after the welfare of SINATRA. He was also told that none of the other "boys" interfered with, contacted, or had anything to do with SINATRA or his welfare, unless ordered to do so or approval was given by FISCHETTI. He understood that SAM GIANCANA or the person he designated issued the orders that SINATRA was to perform at the Fontainebleau Hotel and that FISCHETTI was to handle all matters pertaining thereto.

He was told [redacted] went to one of SINATRA's performances.

Begin He learned FRANK SINATRA left Miami at 2:30 a.m., on 3/12/66, on private jet airplane for New York City. SINATRA has two pilots, names unknown. Accompanying SINATRA to New York were [redacted]

close to JOE FISCHETTI.

SINATRA was laid up four days out of the 12 days (two each week). On night of 3/11/66, JOE FISCHETTI had a party of eight at the SINATRA residence. ~~Two men in particular looked like and acted like hoodlums. Both were of Italian nationality. One was white, male, in his late 40's or early 50's, height 5' 11", weight 180, dark hair. The other was more dignified and was described as white, male, age in 60's, height 6' 2", grey hair, weight 180 - 185.~~

SINATRA never went to the Penthouse Lounge in the Harbour Tower Apartments as everyone thought he would and, in fact, SINATRA stayed in the Fontainebleau Hotel the entire period of time except on one occasion he went to Jilly's Yacht for a party and made about a 15 minute appearance at a party, held aboard the Budweiser Beer Yacht.

With respect to [redacted] FISCHETTI, he understood the difficulties started when [redacted] wanted to get FRANK SINATRA to personally [redacted] appearances, and somehow doubted the promises made. Reportedly, SINATRA had no intention to show up [redacted] and as it turned out he did not. FISCHETTI, he heard, would not let [redacted] SINATRA and after [redacted] as previously mentioned.

SINATRA, likewise, never made any appearance at [redacted]

b7C

b7D

He was told that SINATRA owns the Reprise Record Company, which puts out his records.

He also heard that JOE FISCHETTI was in complete charge relative to FRANK SINATRA and his show was concerned. Anything that FISCHETTI [redacted] provided and reportedly raised no objections.

b7C

b7D

Since SINATRA left, he heard that FISCHETTI has not been around the hotel.

It was also noticeable that SINATRA followed FISCHETTI's instructions and took orders from FISCHETTI.

[redacted] remained in the background and had nothing to do with the SINATRA group or show.

b7C

b7D

Outside of FISCHETTI's handling SINATRA and SINATRA's show, he had nothing to do with anything at the Fontainebleau and on the other hand [redacted] the others had nothing to do with SINATRA or the group he was with, but handled their various operations as usual.
